

INTERNALISING, CULTIVATING AND LIVING THE GOLDEN RULE

This Month of May I ask you to be PROGRESSIVE.

Jabberwok says in the concatenation ceremony: Be PROGRESSIVE.

Progressively promote the best interest of the great industry, which you represent.
Centuries of service have proved the value of its products.

Be alert to make the most of the opportunities, which exist on every side.

Imagine what our world would have been like today had we not made the current progress.

Progress is not only important for all the material things in the World but also equally or should I say even more important in our personal attributes.

If you are not better today than you were yesterday and you do not intend to be better tomorrow than you are today, you are not progressing.

You will be stagnant or going backwards.

This month of June we have the opportunity to concentrate on a value of our Golden Rule that is personal. When we live to be PROGRESSIVE we will grow personally.

You can be a little selfish this month and concentrate and do the things that promote your personal growth.
